■ La Rochelle

“ La Rochelle is the 6th most visited town in France as well as the largest Marina in Europe. ”

Looking out over the ocean, La Rochelle is a town of history and culture linked to its important maritime trade.

Coastline, marina and beaches are accessible in just a few minutes on foot and allow you to relax and discover the magnificent scenery that makes our town an all-year-round attraction.

Blessed with a wide network of buses and cycle paths, La Rochelle has also introduced the “vélos jaunes” which allow you to move around, night and day, in the heart of the urban area. You may also take the waterbuses linking Minimes to the old Port and the Tour de la Chaine to the high tech multimedia Library.

Do you like culture? Discover the important periods of history of the town through its monuments, on your own or with a guide. La Rochelle will hold no more secrets for you!

Are you sporty? You will appreciate playing volleyball on Minimes beach. You can also choose windsurfing, kayaking on the sea, paddleboarding or sailing a catamaran...but if you have a good head for heights you might like to try an indoor climbing wall or Accrobranche (treetop aerial adventure park).

👍 “ For the first time, the Charente Maritime, the department where La Rochelle is located, is the favorite place in France for French tourists. ”

Why study in France?

The excellence of French Further Education is widely recognised throughout the world. Whether it is the ranking of Shanghai, the Financial Times, The Times or in the European Commission Report on Science and Technology, French educational establishments are among the forerunners. Each year, France invests massively in teaching and research: Education represents the largest share of government spending, that is, over 20%.

With all the advantages of a big city and none of its drawbacks, La Rochelle is one of the most delightful and liveliest towns in France. Situated on the Atlantic coast between Nantes and Bordeaux, it is reasonably-sized, therefore very pleasant and safe. La Rochelle is the second largest student town in France in relation to environment, sport and cultural activities, with over 14,000 students, of which 15% are from overseas, and 95 different nationalities are represented on campus.

This programme of 22.5 hours a week is especially for students wishing to obtain B2 level in French in order to continue their studies in France.

The French programme aims to give students the key to successful integration into a French university or Grand Ecole, with particular emphasis on being able to understand lectures and write at university standard.

French classes

The inlingua method allows students to work on all the aspects of the language and French culture, benefit from their immersion in the country. For children over 10.

The objective is for the children to learn French in a natural way and work on oral and writing skills through lively and interactive recreational activities. The emphasis is on speaking and the fluidity of conversation.

Each week the children will work on a class project allowing them to use all they have learned in a real situation, for example, the creation of a travel blog to describe their holiday destination, activities that can be done there, giving advice to future travellers... or, producing a short film to present a typical day at inlingua La Rochelle.

The children are divided into 3 groups according to their level: beginners (A1), intermediate (A2-B1) and advanced (B2)

JUNIOR COURSES

Yachting School 14/17 years old

The yachting school allows you to put into practice, in exceptional surroundings, all that you have learned in your French classes.

The La Rochelle yachting School in partnership with inlingua offers you a “live-in” activity coached by professional monitors/skippers. Whatever your level in sailing, set off with young French people for an unforgettable adventure coached by a professional: the sea, swimming, cooking on-board, parties, games, songs, the islands, Fort Boyard, fishing... The boat

A 30-foot yacht, (9.5m) which brings together comfort and speed. 5 young boys and girls plus the skipper share the living quarters: 2 private cabins and “the mess”, kitchen, living area, bathroom and toilet.

The yacht is ideal for addressing all types of navigation: Cruising, as it is possible to sleep on-board anchored near a beach, learn to manoeuvre in a port, trim the sails and plot a course on a chart; Racing, becoming ever more efficient in all the manoeuvres, improving at every station and adopting the best strategy to go as fast as possible on the shortest route.

The Navigation Zone

The bay of La Rochelle, which is renowned for its safe waters, its islands and its closeness to the south Brittany coast and the Gironde estuary.

JUNIOR COURSES

Tennis Pros 12-17 years old inlingua offers you the chance to play tennis and participate in official tennis tournaments.

inlingua has a partnership with the Tennis Club of Aytré which has been organising a regional youth tennis tournament for the last few years. The players take part in 2 or 3 tournaments per week depending on their results.

The trainers, Christophe and Aurelie, coach the group, organising training between the official matches and participate in the meetings to give advice on mental and physical technique and tactics.

In a word, the life of a real pro for 15 days!

The young French players have a ranking which allows them to enter at later stages in tournaments according to their level. Participants playing at a good level in their own country should make themselves known in order to organise their integration.

This course is therefore not recommended for beginners in French (A2 minimum) who would not be able to communicate with the coaches and other participants, nor for those who have never played in a tennis tournament in their own country.

This course is open to those with a level A2 + in French and to players having already competed in tournaments in their country of origin, so they can take full advantage of the training, advice and team spirit.

Minibus transport is provided and midday meals are taken together at the Aytré Tennis Club, 4 km from the inlingua Centre. Accommodation in host families is not compatible with this formula because of the irregular times of tennis matches. Depending on their age, the students will be placed in one of our 2 residences.

An inlingua staff member takes part in this programme to manage the logistics and ensure the players return to the rest of the group in the evening.

Conditions for inscription

Minimum 1 week of French lessons to be done before taking part in a tournament on the following

Dates: July 9th to 20st 2018
